LIMITED WARRANTY TERMS

Limited Warranty Terms

6. POWERGRID™ “ADVANCED ENERGY STORAGE” BATTERIES

What does the limited warranty cover?

The warranty covers CES products (LiFeMnPO4 batteries, chargers, BMS systems, etc.) which fail due to defect in materials or workmanship. Warranty only applies to original purchaser. Warranty period is five years, ten years in California, and it starts from the date of delivery. During the limited warranty period, customer will receive a replacement for every defective product free of charge (except for taxes, where applicable).

How to obtain a warranty claim?

To obtain a warranty claim, please Contact Us for documentation and a warranty authorization number. Once the authorization number is created, ship the defective product(s) to CES, with proof of original purchase. Include a note stating the problem experienced and include your name, address and your warranty authorization number. Cost of shipping defective products back to CES to be paid by customer. Cost of shipping replacement products to customer is covered by CES.

What is not covered?

This warranty does not cover defects resulting from improper installation, from abuse, misuse, misapplication, improper maintenance, neglect, alteration, accidents, casualties, fire, flood, collision, freezing, theft, or other such as act of God. The warranty will be void under the following conditions:

- i. Apply voltage and current to CES products beyond specified ranges.
- ii. Using chargers and BMS systems that are not provided or approved by CES.
- iii. Over-charge or under-discharge batteries beyond the specified voltage range during usage or storage. Batteries MERELY DISCHARGED are not considered defective.
- iv. Operate and store batteries in the temperature or humidity ranges outside of specified ranges.
- v. Expose batteries under rain or under direct Sun light for extended period of time.
- vi. Product serial or date coding is removed, tampered with or destroyed.

Limitations and Exclusions

CES liability is limited to replacement of batteries, charger or BMS according to the terms stated above CES will not be responsible for any expenses for installation, electrical system tests, charging of batteries, any other implied warranties, including those of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. CES will not be responsible for any incidental or consequential damages, including travel expense, telephone charges, loss of revenue, loss of time, inconvenience, loss of use of the product, and damage caused by the product and its failure to function properly. This warranty sets forth all of the CES's responsibility regarding this product.
